

of $7,000,000 and served a year in prison, would satisfy the cry for justice, and I have already been heard that the courts would be compelled to give me a new trial.

Bankers May Be Sued.
Mr. Morse not only is asking for a Congressional investigation, but is also contemplating suit against prominent New York bankers and others who were connected with his trial and conviction.

He came to Washington quietly and saw Senator Borah, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee. He told Senator Borah the facts from his standpoint. Senator Borah was not inclined to press for an investigation, but this has in no wise discouraged Mr. Morse.

History of Morse Case.
Back in 1905, Charles W. Morse had formed the so-called Ice Trust, and was estimated to be worth $2,000,000. In September, 1905, the National Bank of North America, of which he was head, failed, and February 11 of the following year he was indicted for misappropriation of funds of the bank. He was arrested February 17, 1906, charged with violating national banking laws. November 6 of that year he was sentenced to fifteen years in prison. He sought to reverse the judgment on appeal, but lost out in the Supreme Court of the United States December 7, 1909. In the meantime, he had been pardoned, but lost out in the Supreme Court of the United States December 7, 1909. In the meantime, he had been pardoned, but lost out in the Supreme Court of the United States December 7, 1909.

He was sent to Atlanta penitentiary on January 3, 1910, and after many efforts for his pardon, and after he had been sent to the hospital at Fort McPherson on November 24, 1911, his sentence was commuted by President "Taft" January 18, 1912. Army surgeons examined him and said he could not live if kept in prison.

Regained Health and Wealth.
At the time of his release, it was generally believed this remarkable man, who had had one of the most meteoric of careers, could not live. However, he tackled the problem of regaining his health in the same persistent way he had assailed other problems. After months spent abroad he returned to New York and re-entered the fields of finance.

But he has been less interested in finance than in having his case reopened in the forum of public opinion and in securing the justice he believes due him. For months he has been working away digging up evidence and now he is ready for a Congressional inquiry.

Charges Called Flimsy.
Mr. Morse considers that the charge on which he was convicted was flimsy and that he did nothing more than a score of bankers whose acts were never questioned. He was charged, as vice president of the National Bank of North America, with making dummy loans and purchasing stocks of the American Ice Securities Company and the stock of his own bank.

One of the charges now made by Mr. Morse is that the office of the Comptroller of the Currency was set out in time of trial to allow the jury to see the report of the national bank examination who investigated the case in North America. This report, Mr. Morse maintains, would have established the fact that he had done nothing illegal. The reason for the refusal is said to be that compliance would have shown other bankers were making the same sort of loans and were just as liable to prosecution as he.

All these facts, and more, say the friends of Mr. Morse, will be illuminated in startling fashion if an investigation is ordered.

WILL OFFER NEW DANCE SENSATION

MRS. CHRISTIAN HEMMICK, Hostess at Studio House, Who Will Entertain Tea Guests With Series of Egyptian Dances Tomorrow.

MRS. HEMMICK TO PRESENT NEW FAD

Mrs. Christian Hemmick will be responsible for another new fad, which is expected to grip Washington society, as the countless others she has introduced in the past have done.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Hemmick will be hostess at an Egyptian tea and dance at her interesting residence, Studio House, in Sheridan Circle. The party will be given in compliment to Dr. and Mrs. Preston Satterwhite, of New York, and there will be invited about seventy-five guests from Washington's most exclusive social circles.

While the guests sip Egyptian tea, for all the refreshments will be wholly Egyptian, they will witness the weird contortions and slow, sinuous dances of the native Egyptians whom Mrs. Hemmick will introduce. They have been charming Baltimore's smart set for the last week. The dances will be clad in filmy robes, which will add much to their attractiveness, and several of the dances will be accompanied by music such as has charmed the royalty of Egypt for centuries.

THREE ARRESTED IN $500,000 SWINDLE

Postoffice Inspectors Say the Scheme Was Most Gigantic in Their Knowledge.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Traced across the continent, three men have been arrested in this city by United States Postoffice inspectors charged with having used the mails to defraud merchants throughout the country of nearly half a million dollars.

With the arrest of the men the Government inspectors declare they have tracked one of the cleverest crowds of swindlers that they have come in contact with in years. The method used by the men to defraud was a gigantic one, and during the past five years they are said to have amassed a fortune.

The men were arrested by Chief Postoffice Inspector James Cortelyou, inspectors Frank W. Smith and Arthur Nichols and United States Deputy Marshal Meyer. They gave their names as Charles L. Greenfield, 42 years old; Samuel Brown, 30 years old, and Myer R. Brown, 32 years old.

Greenfield and Brown were arrested at 14 North Fourth street, where the former conducted a commission business under name Southworth Knitting Company. Brown conducted a dry goods store at 205 Ridge avenue, and Rottman a similar place of business at 424 North Second street.

Gang of Six.
According to Chief Cortelyou, the three were part of a gang of six, who have been operating throughout the country during the past six years. All are closely related.

The arrest was largely due to the efforts of C. D. West, of the St. Louis Credit Men's Association. Last November Greenfield, Brown, and Rottman established the Great Western Jobbing House, in St. Louis. Another member of the gang established a similar business in East St. Louis.

Greenfield and Brown sent out large orders to large mercantile houses in the East. The orders were small and upon the receipt of the goods, the bills were discounted. Later the man conducting the other house in East St. Louis sent out for a large order and gave the Great Western Jobbing House as reference. According to Chief Cortelyou, the three were part of a gang of six, who have been operating throughout the country during the past six years. All are closely related.

MOTHER OF MISSING MANAGER IS DEAD

Mrs. Josephine Harrison Victim of Breakdown following Her Son's Disappearance.

The school board of Prince George county will be asked at its next meeting to petition the Maryland legislature for authority to issue bonds in the sum of $15,000, with which to build an addition to the Mount Rainier School. This decision was reached at a meeting of citizens of Mount Rainier held Wednesday evening in Potts Hall.

That the school facilities are not adequate to the needs of the community was made plain by S. M. Weber, chairman of the meeting. Frederick Sausser, superintendent of school of the county declared the youth of Mount Rainier deserved more consideration than they had been shown. He explained that the school facilities were inadequate, and an addition of at least eight rooms to the present six-room structure was suggested.

The advantages of consolidation were spoken of by A. C. Monahan, in charge of rural education in the Bureau of Education. He said the present system in Mount Rainier of using a six-room building and a separate four-room structure was not as economical as using one large building. He cited the savings on fuel, janitor service, and maintenance, and urged the citizens to become active in their advocacy of a single building large enough to respond to the demands of the community.

The purchase of three and one-half lots adjoining the present school would provide a site for the proposed addition.

Decide Unfinished Novel.
LONDON, Jan. 8.—A literary court with G. E. Chesterton as judge, and Bernard Shaw as jury member, found John Jasper guilty of murdering Edwin Drood, thus settling all doubt of Charles Dickens unfinished novel.

Mrs. Josephine A. Harrison, fifty-five years old, mother of Sidney B. Harrison, missing manager of the local office of N. L. Carpenter and Company, who is said to be $25,000 short in his accounts, died today of a nervous breakdown in her apartment in the Octavia, Columbia and Quarry roads.

The end came at 2 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Harrison had been under the care of Christian Science healers for several days and had not had a physician attending her. She was not expected, although her condition had been such as to alarm her friends for several days.

Mrs. Harrison was grief-stricken when she learned her son and Miss Alice E. Malone, also an employee of the company, were missing and that their accounts were said to be short. A few days after their disappearance, a letter from Mrs. Harrison took to her bed. She suffered a nervous breakdown. Members of the family had advised her to return home, but she refused to do so. She was said to be so distraught that she was unable to do anything but weep.

No reply to the notices came. Then warrants were issued for the couple. Mrs. Harrison realized things had gone too far to be patched up. From that time on she grew weaker. A few days ago a cough developed and she suffered constantly from nervous chills and fever.

She was a member of the Christian Science Church. She refused to have a physician. This made it necessary for the coroner to investigate the case, but he said there was absolutely no suspicion of death being due to anything but natural causes.

Dr. Hickling Urges Civic Refuse Work

The substitution of a municipal system to replace the contract method of collecting refuse in the District is the proposal of Dr. D. P. Hickling, chairman of the public health committee of the Board of Trade. Thousands of dollars, it is believed, could be saved to the city.

All civic organizations are being solicited in an effort to gain co-operation in urging the new method, and Dr. Arthur L. Murray, secretary of the committee, has sent out letters outlining a comprehensive argument supporting the proposition.

A Message to Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 20 lbs of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.
Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food. The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste."

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this stunted waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended as highly by physicians having had taken from the foot. The Sargol tablet with every meal and physique how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. James O'Donnell and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Cautions.—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.—ADVT.
